
Calendar can only go through 2037?

Posted by ds_36 - 2007/03/02 23:14

I was playing around with Rainlendar, and realized that the calendar can only hold events through the year 2037. Starting in the year 2037, the years are displayed as XX's (at least in the event dialouge), though they do seem to be saving. And if I set the computer's clock past the year 2037 Rainlendar will crash.

Just curious, is it actually supposed to be like this or is it a bug...and when will it be fixed? I'd love to be able to use Rainlendar forever :woohoo:

The problem with the date control is a Windows limitation and the crash is a bug in the framework. I'd think they'll be fixed at least before the year 2037 :-)
