
switching to german

Posted by finswimmer - 2007/05/07 15:55

Hello,
i have installed rainlendar 2.1 under ubuntu feisty fawn amd64. But I have problems to activate the german languagepack.

I installed it by drag&drap and it appears under "languages". But after selecting it and restart rainlendar he forgot my selection.

Any ideas for a solution?

Thx a lot

tobias

Re:switching to german

Posted by finswimmer - 2007/05/08 18:18

Now i've found the rainlendar2.log.

And there one can find :

23:14:03: Error: Cannot set locale to 'de_DE'.

Any ideas?

bye

tobias

Re:switching to german

Posted by Rainy - 2007/05/09 12:15

Do you have German language support installed to Ubuntu?

Re:switching to german

Posted by finswimmer - 2007/05/09 14:19

Yes I have. BUt I'm not sure wether everything is correct.
If I type "locale" into the terminal I get this:

```
LANG=de_DE.UTF-8
LANGUAGE=de_DE:de:en_GB:en
LC_CTYPE="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_NUMERIC="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_TIME="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_COLLATE="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_MONETARY="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_MESSAGES="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_PAPER="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_NAME="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_ADDRESS="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_TELEPHONE="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_MEASUREMENT="de_DE.UTF-8"
LC_IDENTIFICATION="de_DE.UTF-8"
```

LC_ALL=

Bye, tobias

=====

Re:switching to german

Posted by Rainy - 2007/05/10 13:30

I tried this by first installing the German language (System->Administration->Language Support) and then downloading and installing the German translation for Rainlendar and I was able to change the language without any problems. I wonder if the amd64 version causes some problems with the locale.

=====