I can't find how to use the Google Plugin. Any help would be most appreciated.

Yeah hopefully there will be some documentation when this version is released. First of all you will need to import your current rainlendar calendar (if you have one) into google calendar.

Once you've done that you need to add a new calendar in rainlendar and choose 'Google calendar' from the list. You can then follow the instructions which are pretty straightforward.

Let me know if you have any problems and give your feedback on the plugin.
