
Keeping modifications when computer restarts

Posted by Joaris333 - 2006/11/05 04:17

HELLO i'm very new to this program and I was wondering if anyone could help me (or redirect me to a thread that discusses this).

Whenever i restart my computer, the settings and skin modifications i make are lost, and i have to redo them all over again. Is there a way to avoid this?

=====

Re:Keeping modifications when computer restarts

Posted by he_the_great - 2006/11/05 18:25

Could you provide your log out put, I think after the restart would be good.

The log can be found (I'm guessing windows here) C:\Documents and Settings\"user name"\Application Data\rainlendar2

Note that Application data folder is a hidden folder. You can a) type "Application Data" into the address bar. b) go to tools->folder options, I believe the second tab and click on the show/hide hidded folders.

=====

Re:Keeping modifications when computer restarts

Posted by Joaris333 - 2006/11/05 20:02

umm I found the hidden folder you're referring to but there are no rainlendar files located in it.

=====

Re:Keeping modifications when computer restarts

Posted by he_the_great - 2006/11/06 00:18

Odd, that is probably related to the reason that you aren't having the settings kept. I've reach the end of my ability to help.

=====

Re:Keeping modifications when computer restarts

Posted by Rainy - 2006/11/06 04:19

The settings actually are not anymore in the Application Data folder but one level before it (C:/Documents and Settings/"YourName"/.rainlendar2).

Joaris333: Try making portable installation to a folder which doesn't ave any foreign characters. There is a bug that prevents R2 from loading/saving the events to a folder with non-ascii chars. Or you can also try the new build 26 (see the beta forum) which has this bug fixed.

=====

Re:Keeping modifications when computer restarts

Posted by Joaris333 - 2006/11/08 03:43

ok! thank you both! i will try that and report back

=====

Re:Keeping modifications when computer restarts

Posted by Lene - 2006/11/08 15:55

Hi there

Like the other guy, I'm all new in this!! And on top of that my "computer-english" is not that good (I'm from Denmark).

I've had the "old" Rainlendar installed on my computer for a couple of months now, and twice all our agreements put in the calender dissapeared:sick:

NO GOOD WITH 4 KIDS!!!!

Are they all gone? Could you explain to me - that in a VERY simple way - how to avoid that in the future?

I've tried to install the Rainlendar2 but my computer says that the installer is corrupted or incomplete?!?!:(

Look forward to hear from you.

Regards, Lene

=====

Re:Keeping modifications when computer restarts

Posted by Rainy - 2006/11/10 13:43

Try downloading the installer again. Perhaps the download was interrupted before. When Rainlendar2 is run the first time it will automatically import the old events if it can find them.