Events don't go before 1752 but Rainlendar does

When I go to Rainlendar and keep cycling backwards through the years, it goes before 1700 and I haven't checked how much farther it goes beyond that. But when I try to create an event, such as J.S. Bach's birthday, I can't get it to go before the year 1752, while Bach's birthday is supposed to be 1685. Maybe nobody ever though anyone would do this, or something...

That's a limitation of the Windows date picker control. The Linux version seems to work better...
