
Editing a version of...

Posted by Nightwolf - 2008/07/08 16:44

Hey I love the version that we get but I'd like to know how to tweek it a wee bit its great but I'd like to change the weekday names to a different font and instead of the work into a letter. Any help is greatly appreciated :)

=====

Re:Editing a version of...

Posted by Rainy - 2008/07/10 05:05

If you are trying to modify the Shadow4 skin you should note that the weekdays are drawn as images so you would have to use some paint application to edit them (they are just normal transparent png files). There are instructions in the help file how to uncompress the skin file and how to edit its contents.

=====

Re:Editing a version of...

Posted by Nightwolf - 2008/07/10 18:18

How would you start by uncompressing them? Which program should I use I downloaded PSPad and it looks nifty :D Thanks again Rainy :) How would I be able to gain access to the original images... >_> hmmm... takes a shurlock homes pipe and blows bubbles

=====

Re:Editing a version of...

Posted by Rainy - 2008/07/11 04:03

If you use Windows you can just choose the "Extract All..." from the context menu in Windows Explorer after you have changed the skin's file extension to ".zip".

=====

Re:Editing a version of...

Posted by Nightwolf - 2008/07/11 17:18

Thanks you! :D

I finished modifying it now how would I re-compress it... I tried doing it but when I changed the last name I wasnt able to see it in the options under skin.

=====

Re:Editing a version of...

Posted by Rainy - 2008/07/13 10:49

When you recreate the zip file make sure that you don't create an extra folder inside the archive. The skin.xml file must be in the root of the archive or Rainlendar won't be able to find it and will not load the skin.

=====

Re:Editing a version of...

Posted by Nightwolf - 2008/07/13 14:07

Awesome!!!! it works :D Thank you :)

=====

