
Networking calendar

Posted by peteypablo0069 - 2008/08/07 14:49

Is there a way to have a network calendar that only certian computers can edit and have other computers just view that calendar but can not edit. If those computers want a calender then they can create their own

Thank you very much

Eric

=====

Re:Networking calendar

Posted by kensai - 2008/08/08 03:35

network access control can be done without any interference from rainlendar. you just set the respective file rights

=====