

---

OT: I have to ask

Posted by he_the_great - 2008/11/21 22:12

---

Reading through posts I find that practically everyone uses _ in words that have script. eg de_script_tion, or sub_script_ions. I have been having the hardest time following what is being said since I see 3 words there and only one makes sense. I just have to ask because the words never seem important enough to get so much attention.

=====

Re:OT: I have to ask

Posted by Arne Anka - 2008/11/22 09:44

---

Me think it's the system, not people. Let me try: script, description and subscription - without underline.

Yes, the system added underline!

=====

Re:OT: I have to ask

Posted by Jotaf - 2008/11/22 18:26

---

What the hell! It's the worst web-script disabler I've ever seen! :laugh:

=====

Re:OT: I have to ask

Posted by he_the_great - 2008/11/25 10:17

---

oh, so the plan is to instead say, descreenplaytion and subscreenplaytion :)

=====

Re:OT: I have to ask

Posted by Jotaf - 2008/12/08 22:02

---

I find that it actually encourages typos and bad grammar. For example: description. "I need help with my scrypt". Stuff like that :P

=====

Re:OT: I have to ask

Posted by Alexander - 2008/12/09 01:27

---

Or use spacing:

For example: d e s c r i p t i o n. "I need help with my s c r i p t"

=====