
ONLINE CALENDAR ???

Posted by hakefjord - 2006/11/21 17:34

Hi! I have a Q about "online calendar" after that I have Rainlendar ".
What is that..? Is it for check my calendar from another internetdevice? Or?
How can I make it sync from Rainlendar to outlook.
I got it sync from Outlook to Rainlendar, PERFEKT!!!

Thanks in advance

You can use the network calendars e.g. to see your Google calendar events on Rainlendar. Or if you have access to a webdav server you can use it to store the events so you can use them from different computers.

The network calendars should support all online calendars that use the iCalendar-format (.ics). I don't know if Hotmail supports it or not.

If you have access to php / webhosting environment, set one up yourself.. ->
http://phpcalendar.net/documentation/index.php/Main_Page

I use combination of webdev and phpcalendar, works a charm
