perhaps a analog clock is in your skin. look in options-skins-available skins.
is a analog clock in this skin move it to the aktive skin.

isn't the analog clock in your skin add a skin with an analog clock to rainlendar. and then activate the clock.

The old ini format skins do not support analog clocks. You would have to convert the skin to the xml format. Or alternatively you can use the analog clock window from some other skin.
