thx for the mac stuff. But there is a bug -> look attachment. I don't know what exactly is causing this. It comes when closing or opening apps or other stuff. Don't really know.

The icons getting more and more... :/ e.g. when you click the menubar icon (rainlendar) and select "window". You get 2 icons more. If you press the last/the most left icon and then once again on "window", the "add new todo"-window appears. sometimes. It is kind of weird and confusing. :P

Could you please check that...?! thx ;)

Me think it's a problem with NOD32 - not Rainlendar :P

NOD32 detected a virus in the Windows zip. Can you check this?

Thanks for everything Rainy!

NOD32 is the only antivirus (out of 20 I tested) which reports it as infected so I'm pretty sure it's a false positive. I sent a mail about it to ESET.

larzon1983, I'm not able to reproduce the problem. What happens if you select refresh from the menu? Does it create new icons too?

yeah. When I click refresh a new icon appears. clicking refresh 10 times and I get 10 "new" icons...
I added german language and also edited the shadow-skin to get german graphics. Removing all these modifications doesn't help too.

I've made a small screencast. Maybe this helps:

I'm on holidays until sunday, so I can't give you feedback in the next days... ;)

Thank you very much for the amd64 version!

It works very well in Kubuntu 8.10 amd64 with KDE 4.2. The b70 has had problems clicking refresh, like larzon1983's problem, but this build is ok!
