Tentative appointments

Hi everyone!

I am using the full version of Rainlendar in combination with my Outlook. As my appointments are being generated by the office plannig, some of them are still tentative. That would give me the opportunity to accept of reschedule. Is there a possibility that I can show these with a different colour (of course, without having to go through each of the new appointments myself and adding a specific category to them)?

Thanks in advance for any helpful comments.

At the moment tentative status is not supported at all by Rainlendar so it cannot be customized either. But I can add this to my backlog.

Hi all,

Any news on this issue?

Thanks, and kind regards,

Richard

Hi, just downloaded version v2.10 b120 and noticed that tentative is not yet included. Just out of curiosity: Is there any progress on my (very old) request?
