
German Localisation actually partially Austrian

Posted by pyrdacor - 2009/02/20 05:45

Hi there,

I've downloaded the latest German language file and discovered that when using old skins like "clear", the months strings show and are actually not standard German but Austrian:

January should be Januar and is Jänner,

February should be Februar and is Feber.

(see Leo Dictionary for reference, sorry I don't know an english-interface online dictionary, but I'm a native german).

I included an altered r2lang, maybe you could split the language (once more...) into German and German (Austria) to avoid upsetting Austrians...

Felix

The German and German (Austrian) are now separated in the language page.
