Is there a way to make strings scroll?

Nope. Scrolling would require quite high refresh rate which would use a lot of CPU since Rainmeter will always update everything when the window is redrawn. So, at least at the moment Rainmeter isn't very suitable for that kind of thing.

Ok, then I will try to discover how to use XXScroll to display info from Rainmeter.

I don't suppose Rainmeter can write a measure to a text file, can it?
