Rainlendar 2.5 build 77

Posted by Rainy - 2009/05/16 10:50

Build 77 can be downloaded from here:

Windows: Rainlendar-2.5.b77.zip

Linux TAR (32-bit): Rainlendar-2.5.b77-i386.tar.bz2

Linux DEB (32-bit): rainlendar2-pro_2.5.b77-1_i386.deb

Linux TAR (64-bit): Rainlendar-2.5.b77-amd64.tar.bz2

Linux DEB (64-bit): rainlendar2-pro_2.5.b77-1_amd64.deb

Mac OS X (Intel): Rainlendar-2.5.b77.dmg

This is beta version! It has not been tested.

The addons for Shadow4 skin 1.4:

<http://www.rainlendar.net/download/1.4/Shadow4-Widgets.r2skin-addon>

<http://www.rainlendar.net/download/1.4/Shadow4-Languages.r2skin-addon>

Changes:

- o Added icons to the menus.

- o RTM priorities were reversed. Fixed.

- o Outlook's appointments' private property didn't work. Fixed.

- o New calendar wizard now suggest a name for the calendar automatically.

- o Added support for an url field for the events and tasks. The link is shown as a clickable icon in the lists.

- o The horizontal and vertical calendars support weeknumbers now. The weeknumber is drawn on the first day of the week (use offset to move it).

- o Word wrapping works now for lines without spaces.

- o If updating an event to Google Calendar causes a conflict the updated event will reloaded from the server.

Windows 7 RC1 here. Chromophore 1.0.

When I enter a URL for a task, a little earth symbol is properly added in the task list. But it will stay there after removing the URL again and link to the same website. Changing the URL also doesn't seem to work. Will be gone after a refresh.

Has this issue been fixed?

OMG, I *hate* the URL globe icon in my event/todo lists. How do I get rid of it?? GAH! I like the idea, but I'd like a nice minimal > or something. Not this horrid blue globe.

Otherwise, I'm running Vista SP1 32 bit, and all is awesome!

Thanks for the update mate!
I'm having a problem with my RSS widget.
I am using it for lifehacker.com, with URL set to <http://feeds.gawker.com/lifehacker/full>. This has worked brilliant before.
Right now, it only displays "Lifehacker", and no entries. I ve tried on my laptop aswell as my desktop, both running WinXp. I've also tried lifehacker.com/index.xml, but no luck there either.

I am grateful for any replies.
EDIT: <http://lifehacker.com/top/tag/index.xml> solved it. Sorry for the buzz!
Thank you for a great product!

Where is the globe icon located so I can replace it with an image of my choosing?

myskin is an .ini file, with no images, and none of the images in it's folders are globes?

what is the file name?

edit: found it, it's in the zrc file. or should i say it was? :P

now where are the xml files and xsl files so i can start styling my text? :P

Yay, thanks so much for added my suggested feature to horizontal and vertical calendars. Now I can now easily tell what day of the week it is =].

When I try to connect to RTM, it takes many minutes and then returns this error:
server returned the result:(18) 200 partial file

I'm having a problem with Remember The Milk compatibility..

If I complete a task using Rainlendar (Right Click -> Completed) then the task gets updated as Completed on RTM, but it doesn't get removed from my 'To Do' list in Rainlendar.

Is this a known problem? Or am I doing something wrong? I have got the 'Hide Completed Tasks' option ticked :S

---

I'm using an unlicensed version of b77 on Windows Vista 64-bit - hoping to buy a licence once I've found out the cause of this problem.

Thanks.

The completed date is set incorrectly so the recurring tasks cannot be completed until the due date has passed. I'll fix that.

eyecreate, how many tasks you have in RTM?

Do you get the error always or just sometimes? Does the RTM's webpage work without problems?

Re:Rainlendar 2.5 build 77

rtm's webpage works fine for me and it always either gives that error at which point it just continues on, or sometimes it will crash and disappear. If you want, I can try and see if I can catch it crashing again to see what it says, but I have run other programs that access rtm just fine.(ex. I'm running KDE4 and I've used a plasmoid/applet that can access rtm fine)

Hi,
Rainlendar 2.5 b77 also gives me the "Server returned result: (18) 200 Partial file." error. I'm running Windows 7 RC. No matter what I can't synchro with RTM :-/

OK, now I have tested it with Window XP SP3 and I am still getting the error. So I guess it is not about the OS. Everytime I try to refresh, the green progress icon above the Rainlendar tray icon is shown, but after a few minutes I will get the error...

The server returns 200 meaning that everything went fine so I'm not really sure what data the network library is still waiting for. Can you run Rainlendar in the debug mode (use --debug command line argument or start it from "Debug Rainlendar" link in the program folder)? It should then create a file called RTMDump.xml to the backup folder which contains the data it got from the server. If you open the file with a text editor does it contain all your tasks (if you are not familiar with the xml format I can also check it if you send it to me (rainy@iki.fi))?

okay, I get what seems to be a good dump. (at least I can read the text parts of the xml that relate to my tasks.) I get a bunch of lines like this, though due to my previous usage of RTM with Jott.

<http://pastebin.ca/1447792>

I hope that couldn't be the cause. :(

I still get the same error, though from Rainlendar and it still doesn't show up in the software.

Thank you for a clue! I run the Rainlendar in debug mode, opened the xml file and then it was clear. The file was rather long and the last tag was unfinished - so I realized that it could be caused by large number of tasks in RTM. I have just deleted finished tasks (there was 95 of them) and everything works alright now.

Any idea why a lot of tasks causes this problem? What is the limit number? Anyway if there is no other workaround than to delete the finished tasks I think the user should be informed about what is happening...

Well, it seems after deleting those jott tasks that it made no difference. Now that it's mentioned, my list is cut off too. I only have about 75 completed tasks, so if task number is a problem, then the max is less than that.

I changed the RTM plugin implementation now so that it doesn't read the completed tasks from the server which should reduce the size of the downloaded data.

Hello,

I, too, am using the unlicensed b77 version, in my case on Windows 7 RC1 32bit, and have the exact same problem. I'm sorry to repeat the question, but I'm not sure I understood your answer-- :unsure:

Are you saying that this is a known issue, which you will be fixing in an upcoming version? If so, then I will upgrade immediately.

BTW, I totally love this program. LOVE LOVE LOVE it. Have been using the unlicensed version for years. There is nothing that comes close in terms of flexibility and ease of use.

Hi Shelley,

This problem is fixed for me in b78, so give that a try and it should be working correctly for you too.
